Cajun Lake Lodge

Need a break from the monotony and distraction of your office?

Bring your executive leadership team or up to 18 colleagues to the Cajun Lake Lodge in Burns, Tennessee, just 45 minutes from Clarksville, Nashville, and Columbia.

Take a break from your meeting and refresh your mind while:

- Fishing
- Hiking on 35 Acres
- Kayaking
- Playing Basketball
- Enjoying the Creek or Ponds

It's time to schedule your next major meeting out of the city.

We've all experienced the frustration of attempting to focus on major projects or important brainstorming in your own office. You're interrupted every few minutes and oftentimes get sucked into non-urgent tasks or putting out fires. Maybe your team has hit a rut and you need a boost of creativity and ingenuity.

Offsite business meetings don't have to be outrageously expensive or inconvenient. You'll love the drive to Burns and getting back home for weekday dinner with your family even more.

Change your environment, change your results.

Research shows that holding meetings in new environments aid in stimulating creativity and breaking out of established ruts.

Whether you need to have intense focus time, private executive conversations, or a relaxed brainstorming retreat, Cajun Lake Lodge is the perfect setting for your next business meeting.

The board room with a view.

Our spacious Great Room has floor-to-ceiling windows and is surrounded by rolling hills, lakes, and wildlife. And with exclusive use of the property, your privacy is our priority.
